The inimitable composer, arranger, bandleader and clarinetist, PHIL NIMMONS, joined the Faculty of Music, University of Toronto in 1973 as instructor in jazz techniques - orchestration, improvisation and arranging - and as director of the Faculty's Jazz Ensembles. A tireless proponent for the development of educational facilities for jazz and related music, he is the Director of Jazz Studies at the Courtney Youth Centre in Vancouver and has held similar positions at the University of New Brunswick, Banff School of Fine Arts and the University of Western Ontario. He is in great demand as an adjudicator and, as such, is presently the Chairman of the National Adjudicators Committee for the Canadian Stage Band Festival. A prolific and adventurous composer, Mr. Nimmons' own works in both the jazz and classical vein date from 1948. He is a founding member of the League of Composers, and the recording of his Atlantic Suite (1974) by his own band Nimmons 'N' Nine Plus Six received, in 1976, the first Juno Award given in the jazz category. Recent compositions include PS42JS written for James Campbell, clarinet and Joseph Macerollo, accordian, and a work for the same duo commissioned by the Ontario Arts Council entitled Duologue. He is presently working on a CBC commission for the CBC Vancouver Chamber Orchestra.
